Lines & Lessons (3)

miscellaneous · January 2, 2026

Human love always diminishes when it is not reciprocated. But His love is always perfect, even when we respond to it so weakly.

*

You could examine every square inch of God's new creation with the most precise microscope of holiness and still find no trace of sin. All this is thanks to the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world (John 1:29)!

*

For those who believe, John 3:16 is transformed from a beautiful exhibit into their life jacket.

*

God's grace and government are two different things. And yet, as children of God, we must remember that government is set in motion and maintained by grace. The Father judges according to each person's work, but it is still the Father. (according to JND)

*

In a small local assembly, there may be no one who is eloquent and speaks profitably to the listeners. Still, the assembly of God does not come together primarily to preach, to speak much or little—its goal is to do the will of God, to remember Christ, to act biblically in faith in the goal and glory of God in his assembly. (W.K.)

Source https://thebiblestudy.site/article/lines-lessons-3/